

Cressing Temple Barn - Essex Festival of Food

Date: Saturday 19th July 2014

First pick up starts at 8.30am, Departing approx 5pm

Three fabulous cookery theatres packed full of demonstrations and Master classes throughout the day and we don't forget the mini master chefs. There will be kids cookery classes with the talented Ursula Ferrigno every hour on each day which are free and what's more, one ticket price gets you the whole festival experience with no added extras apart from your food!

What a treat for all food-lovers when you head to the festival this year. Over 120 producers will come together to serve up a giant feast. Join in to sample some excellent local food, exciting and unusual flavours from the street food traders and soak up the atmosphere at the outdoor Food Court, listen to live music whilst quaffing your favourite tipple!

Take one historic venue in the heart of Essex, combine with an enviable food culture, a mix of celebrity and local chef demonstrations, producers and an array of cooking and food activities and what do you get - the Essex Festival of Food and Drink of course!

An opportunity to take part in their own version of Great British Bake off, entries must register beforehand by visiting their website at: <http://ecfoodfestival2014.nmgl.co.uk/whats-on>

Judging Saturdays competition will be Ruby Tandoh who was a finalist in 2013 GBBO.

A day trip for all ages and one not to be missed and Under 13's entry is FREE!
