Consultancy

If you have a limited budget or you want to plan the event yourself, but just don't know where to start or you need some initial direction, we would be delighted to consult with you to get you started. We can recommend sites or venues suitable for your event; help you to develop a theme suitable for your budget. We will be there for you every step of the way, to guide and offer support. The event would however be yours to plan, develop and run.
