

Contingencies & Contingency Planning

Every business and organisation can experience a serious incident that can prevent it from continuing normal operations and productivity.

This can range from a flood or fire to a serious computer malfunction or Information Security incident. The management of the organisation have a responsibility to recover from such incidents in the minimum amount of time, with minimum disruption and at minimum cost.

This requires careful preparation and planning.

It is vital that the organisation takes the development and maintenance of a disaster recovery or business continuity plan seriously.

It is not one of those tasks that can be left until everyone has time to deal with it. A serious incident can affect the organisation at any time and this includes the next 24 hours!

Kent Events will personally visit your organisation and talk to all your key staff and develop a comprehensive contingency plan that in the event of a major incident will ensure your business is able to continue as near to normal operations, thereby assisting in your businesses recovery and protecting you most valuable assets, your staff.