

Our Venue – Quex Park

Park Lane, Birchington, Kent, CT7 0BH

We thought you might like to see our venue in the daylight

The fireworks display is set in front of the magnificent Quex House

Quex Park is a unique country Park of 250 acres on the Isle of Thanet set within an estate of 1800 acres around Birchington, Acol and Richborough

The Park is an oasis of parkland and trees in a Thanet landscape of open topography and urban development

All the trees were planted in the 19th Century by John Powell and his successors who realised when planting that they would never live to see the true beauty of their vision

The Park is a haven for birdlife with over 50 species recorded in the last few years
