

Mary Magdalena - With Love and Blessings I come to you My Children

My Dear Children, it is I, Mary Magdalena, I ask you to share my prayers in thinking of the young, the old and the infirm who are in need of our thoughts and prayers as the colder weather settles upon your country and the living conditions become harsher and harder for you all. It is a very cruel and unwelcoming world that has developed on your planet it is hard for you, but for the less fortunate it is much harder for them, every little problem to be solved becomes a mountain to be climbed at times like this I ask they should hold out their hands and hearts and I shall be there to help them over the rocky and unforgiving terrain. I pray that the little children should come unto me and open your hearts and let me love and heal you. I walk with you my children I know the uncertainty and fear that easily comes to your hearts and souls but I assure you that you are not alone whatever your religion or beliefs my love surrounds you and is yours to have and keep forever.

Although it is many hundreds of years since I walked on your Earth I remember well my time amongst you, the records of the life and times we lived have been recorded by many, but lesser beings have come along and altered these records and in many cases it is to suit themselves, to cover up the real truth of the events that occurred. Much of this was done in fear and jealousy to prevent the good that was done in the name of the Lord God from being passed on to future generations. Our times although hard and unforgiving at times were, full of love and strong beliefs that originated from good and pure hearts and where we had two coats we willingly gave one to help another, we shared our bread and wine, also our fireside was a welcoming place for any traveler to share; to sleep, eat and share stories that needed to be told.

There was never the need for any of you to live in fear, poverty or misery. The examples that Jesus Christ set his loving followers was strong enough to last for the many, many lifetimes of mankind, but unfortunately it was tainted and twisted by those who did not wish to understand and feared that they could not survive the good things that would have come to pass. These few ignorant beings spoiled it for the many and so it has continued to be the case, as it is still so in your times. The lesson to be learned is that it takes only one to fear and to be jealous and the resulting actions of that one person will affect many more. The saddest thing is that when the one spoils it for the many, the person they are actually hurting the most is themselves. It is a hard lesson for them to learn and often it takes many lifetimes (if they are successful at all) for the lessons to be learned, my heart goes out to these wayward children for they should return to my fold where I can nurture them and heal them back to spiritual health.

We walk amongst you where you least expect us to be and it saddens us in the extreme to see the sorrow that these unfortunate individuals have caused. The way for you to help these unfortunate people and to stop the damage that they do, is to find it in your hearts to forgive them and then bless them and let them go on their way. Evil cannot exist when love and goodness is in existence, we do not ask that you do more than this, as many of these individuals require help that cannot be given whilst they are incarnated in their current existence. We will work with them as and when the time is right, but your assistance would be appreciated and would be of great value and help to us.

It is our aim with the coming events to take you back to the values and ethics we instilled so many years ago into mankind and to reintroduce you to the simplicity and purity of how your lives should have been, had others not been of the mind to change the way forward for you. No one can make this path an easy one for you but with a little time set aside each day to spend in thoughts, prayers and quiet time, the way forward will become a less daunting path to travel. Remember my beloved ones that you do not travel alone. You will find you know who to trust and who to look to with caution; but find it in your hearts to project love and compassion and make the journey a little easier for everyone. Your soul groups will attract each other both now and in the future; you know who they are deep down and as you become more aware you will recognize and greet each other like long lost family and friends, which of course you are.

Many of you will recognize us when you meet us again for it will not be the first time we meet, we are in many cases of the same souls groups, just of slightly different elevation within that group; so I ask treat us as family and friends for that is what we are in all reality. Know we are with you and our love is unconditional. My children on this note I leave you and assure you of my love and devotion, my healing and blessing.

God Bless,

Mary Magdalena – Channeled through Diana – 22nd November 2010.
