

Article regarding the Family of Schools Day held at Lutterworth Performing Arts Centre on Tuesday 11th January 2011

stershire.co.uk

SATURDAY, JANUARY 15, 2011 LDM-E01-S2 LM03

PICTURE: ANDREW CARPENTER / 7076271

ON YOUR TOES: Dance teacher Lucy Whitfield and pupils during the thriller dance routine

Pupils wow parents with arts spectacular

MORE than 100 pupils from six schools took part in a day of singing, dance and drama.

And after hours of hard work, the youngsters put on a performance for parents at the Lutterworth Performing Arts Centre.

The pupils were from Thomas Estley Community College and five of its feeder primary schools, Orchard, Hallbrook and Old Mill in Broughton Astley, Cosby Primary School and St Peter's, in Whetstone.

Thomas Estley teachers Chris Freeman, Kate Campbell and Helen Haigh organised the arts day.

Miss Campbell said: "It was a brilliant day. It was the first time we have held the event at the centre."

"There were more than 100 year six pupils from the primary schools and 29 pupils from Thomas Estley who took part.

"The staff at the performing arts centre led the sessions. The children really enjoyed them and put on a professional performance."

"The performance lasted for 25 minutes and included singing, dancing and drama."