

Comedy musical promises to be sinfully funny

▶ Talent...youngsters during rehearsals at Lutterworth Performing Arts Centre. (Picture: Andrew Carpenter/001380-63)

A COMEDY musical adventure about the seven deadly sins is being staged by the Future Faces Theatre School at Lutterworth College next weekend.

A large cast of young actors, singers and dancers is busy putting the finishing touches to the comedy musical, called Dreaming of Seven, which has been written by Future Faces principal Bradley Woodward.

He said: "The production is an adventure going through the seven deadly sins.

"You can't help but marvel at the quality of the performances that young people can produce.

"The boys and girls have been working hard during their rehearsals and it promises to be a really good show."

Although the musical itself is an original piece of work, Mr Woodward said the songs are ones which people will already know.

The show is being staged at the college next Saturday and Sunday, July 9 and 10.

There will be an afternoon matinee performance on both days at 2pm, as well as the main evening performance at 7pm.

Tickets cost £8.50 in advance, £6.50 for concessions, and can be bought by phoning Lutterworth Performing Arts Centre on 01455 553878.

For more information, visit www.futurefaceslutterworth.co.uk.