For Immediate Release:

SysEnvir cuts prices across the board!

SysEnvir is keen to announce that it is cutting its prices of its main product ranges:

- Webinar production and hosting (A webinar is an online seminar on your computer)
- Web-based business research
- General Practitioner Commercial Training

all to an affordable £29 per hour from a previous £49 per hour.

SysEnvir Director Andy Lewis said:

"Prices are coming down all over the place and SysEnvir is keen to reflect this trend. It is good news for local business that international communication technology and skills are readily available to fight back in the global economy."
